

OFF WITH THE CASH

Expert Thieves Rob a Bank at Coldwater, Mich.

THE WORK OF BOLD ROBBERS

They Demolish the Vault With Dynamite, and Make Their Escape With $20,000 in Cash.

COLDWATER, Mich., March 3.—Explosive blew open the safe of the Coldwater national bank Wednesday night and secured $20,000. The noise of the explosion was heard half a mile away, but the people thought it was thunder.

Know Their Business

The robbers drilled the outer door of the vault with a punch broke off the lock. The middle door was secured with a padlock. This was probably broken with a sledge. The inside vault contained one burglar-proof combination lock safe and also a steel safe with time lock. These were drilled and charged with dynamite. The doors of both safes were blown completely off, wrecking both safes and leaving nothing but a shell of each.

Took All They Could Find

The robbers took all the cash, including bills, silver and pennies, they could find. They also secured $40,000 of Philadelphia & Reading railroad bonds, a private deposit. The burglars gained access to the bank by prying up an outside window.

No Claw

The concussion shattered the wooden shelves inside the vault and scattered the contents of the safes and the shelving about the floor. There was no one sleeping in the bank. The discovery of the robbery was not made until the bank was opened in the morning. There is no clue to the robbers.

SET ASIDE THE DECREE

Applicants For Divorce Must Comply With the Law.

LANSING, March 3.—The supreme court handed down an opinion in the Charles N. Ayres case the result of which announced by the court yesterday resulted so tragically in Detroit last night. The mandamus dissolving the injunction was granted upon the same ground that the statutory provision that applicants for divorce should make a sworn statement that there was no collusion between the parties for procuring the divorce, had not been complied with. The opinion makes the proceedings in this case wholly invalid and as though none had been commenced, so far as the status of the parties are concerned. The court in its opinion, however, is exceedingly cautious in the use of language, and the opinion cannot be construed as retroactive. It is entirely probable that this important statutory provision has been overlooked in many cases where decrees have been made in good faith, and rendering them all invalid would create an endless amount of confusion and embarrassment, and work a hardship upon innocent parties. The question having been raised in this particular case, the court holds that the statute is mandatory.

DOGS HIS ONLY FRIENDS

Discovery of an Aged Michigan Hermit in a Hut.

ADRIAN, Mich., March 3.—A party of local hunters who returned today from a duck-shooting expedition down the River Raisin, report the finding of an aged hermit who lives in the dense woods about seven miles from the city.

The old man with grizzly beard and long, matted locks, lives in a rude hut made of brush and logs caught in the drift of the river. His sole companions are four dogs.

Supreme Court Decisions

LANSING, March 3.—In Stone vs. Newaygo Circuit Judge, Mandamus denied. Court holds there was no abuse of discretion in the court below. Mandamus is also denied in Timman vs. The Board of Supervisors of Monroe County. It involved the assessment of drain taxes and a quite instructive case. An opinion was handed down, case heard: (118) Geo. Hedrick vs. Frederick A. Beard; (119) James H. Curtis et al vs. Luther G. Wilcox; (120) William Ragan vs. The Toledo, Ann Arbor and North Michigan Railroad Co.; (121) Josephine Knight, Adm'x vs. The Standard Life and Accident Ins. Co.; (122) The Talbot Paving Co. vs. The Common Council of Detroit; (123) The Fort Street Union Depot Co. vs. Abraham Backus Jr. et al, partially argued. Fridays call 127, 128, 132, 133, 135. Court convenes at 9 A. M.

It goes to the very root of all female complaints, renews the waning vitality, and invigorates the entire system. Surely such letters as this will support our claims:

DEAR MADAM:—... I think your Vegetable Compound saved my life; it is the best medicine for kidney and female troubles I ever saw. I induced my friends to use it, and it has never failed.—Mrs. H. E. FOSKETT, West Rutland, Vt.
